DOES

THINKS

If more cash seems to be going out than coming in, a great way to take financial control is to set aside some time to calculate your expenses

Gather your financial statements

These documents, such as bills, mortgage statements, and account statements, can help you see exactly where your money is going

Many small business owners actively resent the time taken away from just to track business expenses.

Once you get your spending in check, you can begin to make big financial plans for the future – and feel confident about making them a reality

Unfortunately, tracking business expenses can feel like a lot of extra, fiddly admin.
